Pacific Fruit Exchange Will Use Earl Shed

Lease, Option To Buy Is Signed With A. J. Rupley

Pacific Fruit Exchange has taken a lease, with option to purchase, upon the fruit shed in Upper Placerville formerly occupied by the Earl Fruit Company and owned by A. J. Rupley.

This was the announcement Friday of Walter Leavitt, local manager for the Pacific Fruit Exchange, who states the shed will be newly equipped and ready for service by April 10.

Leavitt said four new grading units will be installed in addition to a new type of washing machine.

Negotiations for the new location were under way early in the past winter season, it was learned.

The Pacific Fruit Exchange shed collapsed under the weight of one of the heavy snowstorms of the winter, and negotiations for the larger shed were under way prior to that time.

PLANE STRIKE BROKEN; MOTOR SPLIT WIDENS

By UNITED PRESS

Progress toward industrial peace was made on the West Coast with settlement of the Douglas Aircraft Corporation strike today as the American Federation of Labor laid plans to take the initiative in its struggle for dominance of union labor with John L. Lewis' committee for industrial organization.

Returning to Washington President William Green of the A. F. of L. disclosed that he was considering calling an emergency convention of the Federation to expel unions affiliated with the C.I.O.

One of the major strikes in the nation ended when Douglas Aircraft at Santa Monica, agreed to recognize the aircraft division of the United Automobile Workers Union as bargaining agent for its members. The union will not, however, bargain for the entire plant, one of the largest in the aviation industry, which was closed a fortnight ago when police using tear gas evicted and arrested 350 sit-down strikers. Work was resumed there today by all except 38 workmen charged with sabotage.

A new conflict arose between the U.A.W.A. and General Motors Corporation in conferences at Detroit. Both sides charged violation of terms of the February 11 strike peace.

Rescue Farm Center Meets Friday Night

State Fire Warden Willard Austin will be the "Conservation Week" speaker at the Friday night meeting of the Rescue Farm Center.

In addition to motion pictures and other program features, Farm Advisor Lilley will give a landscaping demonstration.

The last of the series of Farm Center meetings for the month will be Tuesday night, next, at Kelsey, at which Assistant Forester Arnold Weber of Eldorado Forest, will be the "Conservation Week" speaker.

The sheriff's office has a new coat of paint on the walls and ceiling.

This Babe's Cradle Small As Your Hand

NEW YORK (UP)—Survival of a prematurely born baby, small enough to fit into the palm of an adult hand and weighing one pound or less, amazed doctors at Park East Hospital, today.

The baby, a girl, was born somewhere between the 23rd and the 27th week of gestation, doctors said.

The respiration of the infant was recorded at 45 to the minute—five points better than most babies at birth. Her exact weight was not determined because nurses did not want to take the risk of handling her in the process.

The child was born to Mrs. Max Post. Post is a WPA worker.

Skiers Honor G. Forrsbeck

Annual Club Banquet Held Thursday Night

Annual banquet of the Placerville Ski Club was held Thursday night with Gunnar Forrsbeck, state cross-country skiing champion and a member of the club, as guest of honor.

Dinner was served at Hotel Raffles, with the tables grouped in the dining room, and was followed by dancing to music provided by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Darby.

The meeting was conducted by President Adolph Martin and on behalf of the club, in appreciation for his interest in the club and the sport, a pen and pencil set was presented to Forrsbeck, who responded briefly.

A. H. Murray, chamber of commerce president; Ranger M. D. Morris of Pacific district, and various officers of the club made short talks.

HENRY JONES IS SUMMONED EARLY FRIDAY

Private funeral services will be held Monday at the graveside at Union cemetery for Henry S. Jones, who died early Friday at a Placerville hospital. Rev. Harold Morehouse will have charge.

Mr. Jones was a native of Rhode Island, aged about 74 years, and during his active life had engaged in mining. Of recent years he had resided in the Nigger Hill district, near Placerville, and had been in reasonably good health until about three days ago when he suffered a stroke of paralysis.

He is survived by two daughters in addition to a brother, F. W. Jones of Placerville, and a niece, Mrs. Reuel Whigam, also of this city.

ALARM DEVICES GET APPROVAL OF U. S. BOARD

WASHINGTON (UP)—The federal communications commission has approved alarm devices to be used by ships to conform with provisions of the international convention for promoting safety and life at sea.

The commission also extended to August 6, 1937, the exemption for United States ships from the ship radio telegraph safety instruction which provided that all cargo ships of 5500 gross tons or over, not equipped with an approved auto-alarm receiving device and engaged on an international voyage, maintain a continuous radio watch by means of qualified radio operators.

Sheriff George M. Smith was at Sacramento Friday attending a meeting of state peace officers, in connection with proposed legislation submitted to the state legislature.

Farm Centers Will Vote On Road, Fire Levy

Directors Refer Two Proposals Back To Membership

The March meeting of the county Farm Bureau directors was held on Thursday night at the Farm Advisor's office, with President James A. Irving, in charge and Roy Marks as acting secretary.

Among those who attended were V. H. Hamilton, Max Bollman, Will Miller, Louis Wunschel, L. W. Veerkamp, H. B. Murphy, W. G. Collyer, Dr. W. A. Rantz, F. M. Holt, Al Bryan, John Larsen, Leo Ench, Dan M. Bassi, and Farm Advisor Lilley.

Two matters of importance to the county generally were referred by the directors to the various farm centers for an expression of opinion.

Mr. Bassi, Supervisor from the Fourth District and chairman of the county board, brought up the matter of the proposed return of the 40 cent road tax. The directors voted that they should take the matter up with the various centers for an expression of opinion.

Mr. Bassi also reported that State Fire Warden W. C. Austin had called upon the Board of Supervisors requesting that the board make an appropriation of $2,000 to assist in the more efficient control of fires in the lower part of the county. Mr. Bassi said the Board of Supervisors would appreciate having an expression of opinion from the Farm Bureau on the matter and the question was, by vote of the directors, referred to the various centers.

Other business of the meeting included a report by Mr. Irving on the training meeting held Tuesday of this week at Oroville and a consideration, under their various departmental headings, of the reports of doings in the several county Farm Bureau departments.

$25,000 ASKED TO AID BOVINE T. B. CLEAN-UP

SACRAMENTO (UP)—A bill to carry out recommendations of the special legislative dairy investigation committee for eradication of bovine tuberculosis in California was introduced in the assembly yesterday by S. L. Heisinger, Fresno, chairman of the committee.

The measure asks an appropriation of $25,000 to be expended under supervision of the director of agriculture when such money, or any part of it, is matched by federal funds to wage the campaign against bovine tuberculosis. Tubercular animals are classified in provisions of the bill and methods of examination set up. All reactors would be branded with a letter "T" on the left jaw.

All counties of the state would be included in a tuberculosis control area wherein department of agriculture inspectors would examine and tuberculin test dairy cattle, and with consent of the owner, such beef cattle as he may specify, to determine which animals are affected.

The director may withdraw one or more counties from the tuberculosis control area when funds available for indemnity and administration are sufficient to continue the work, under provisions of the act, but the area withdrawn would be made a provisional control area wherein no indemnity would be paid for reactors. In such provisional control areas the tuberculin test would be made only upon request of owners of the cattle.

The bill also carries provision for the slaughter of reactors within 30 days after final determination of reaction, but would permit owners to retain the animals in quarantine under restrictions prescribed by the director.

FIREBUG SETS $50,000 BLAZE

Sacramento Hardware Firm Razed Early Friday

SACRAMENTO (UP)—A hole in the wall of a building where a midnight general alarm fire caused $50,000 damage today gave authorities a new "firebug" mystery to solve.

Officials expressed certainty the blaze, which was brought under control early today after razing the Murray and Low Hardware Co., and threatening adjoining buildings, was touched off by an incendiary whose alleged depredations now exceed half a million dollars.

Three firemen were injured. Firefighters were handicapped by dense smoke from burning paint materials.

Storm Brings 1.52 Ins. Rain

Hawaii Clipper Turns Back On Flight To Honolulu

Rainfall for the current storm in Placerville up to 2 o'clock Friday afternoon was 1.52 inches bringing the total for the season as of this date to 30.85 inches.

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Continued rain and increasingly high winds were predicted for the San Francisco Bay region by the United States Weather Bureau, today.

Storm signals were hoisted along the coast of Oregon and California and rough, choppy seas were reported on the Pacific.

The storm plunged part of San Francisco into darkness last night when it blew out a 100,000 volt switch at a Pacific Gas and Electric Company sub-station.

The Hawaii Clipper of the Pan American Airways, which left Alameda for Honolulu yesterday, was forced back by the storm and is awaiting improved weather conditions.

Diamond Springs Road Is Opened

Supervisor C. E. Green, in town Friday morning from Diamond Springs, reported that State Route 49, the road over Sacramento Hill to Diamond Springs, is open for travel.

Mr. Green said he has learned from Ed Willis, highway maintenance engineer, that the approaches to the bridge are yet to be surfaced and that this work will be taken up at a later date.

The road had been close for the erection of a new bridge to replace the old one-way structure. The new bridge was built by Don Morton.

School Superintendent E. J. Fitzgerald reports the road was opened sometime Thursday afternoon "because I went home that way Thursday evening; and it's some different."

Drunk Driving Laid To Smith Flat Man

Otis Abarr, of Smith Flat, was arrested Thursday afternoon by Traffic Captain E. A. Brewster on charges of driving while drunk. He will appear Wednesday before Justice of the Peace T. F. Lewis.

Abarr was noticed by the officer, evidently under the influence of liquor, preparing to get into his machine which was parked on Main Street near the city hall.

Brewster warned the man not to drive the machine, and went on. Returning through town a few minutes later, the officer found Abarr at the wheel of the car, assertedly driving on the wrong side of the street.

Guy Benson was in town Friday from Somerset.

Congressmen Approached Secretly On Plans For Maintaining Men At Work

Estimated Maximum Cost $2,500,000,000 Each Year, Paying Average Of $700 For Persons On Payroll

By LYLE C. WILSON

United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, (Copyright, 1937, By United Press)—Permanent organization of the Works Progress Administration on a $2,500,000,000 annual spending basis has been proposed secretly to selected groups of congressmen, the United Press was informed today.

The plan was advanced by Federal Emergency Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins to cope with forecast semi-permanent unemployment of 2,000,000 to 4,000,000 persons. Hopkins refused to confirm the report but it was authenticated by a member of congress who heard it discussed in detail.

As outlined to the United Press, Hopkins estimated the maximum cost would be approximately $2,500,000,000 annually on a basis of $700 a year for each person on the WPA payroll.

Hopkins told his congressional conferees that a permanent WPA should be devoted to socially valuable and permanent projects but undertakings which would not encroach upon the field of public works proper.

Permanent WPA, he suggested, might clear forests for recreational purposes, build dikes, straighten flood-menaced streams, engage in minor public improvements in cities, perform road improvement work, build or improve such municipal institutions as zoos and playgrounds and, possibly, aid in construction of school houses.

Although forest clearing definitely was a part of the program, Hopkins insisted that "this leaf-raking business is bad." He was referring to the type of work performed under the first Roosevelt relief program—the Civil Works Administration.

Within the organization of the proposed permanent WPA would be provision for white collar workers and for employment of jobless women. Hopkins suggested that WPA be shifted in the process of governmental reorganization to the department of social welfare which President Roosevelt has asked congress to create.

Hopkins urged also that permanent WPA be a strictly federal undertaking with no requirement for local contributions.

CHILD STAR IN FEATURED ROLE ON SUNDAY BILL

Bobby Breen, the child singing star, comes to Placerville Sunday and Monday in "Rainbow on the River," which will be screened at the Empire Theater.

He is supported by May Robson and Charles Butterworth and the Hall-Johnson choir in a picture which, from all reports, will be one of the big features of the March billing at the Empire.

Those who like their entertainment rough and ready, with generous portions of excitement and thrilling situations, will find it Saturday night at the Empire Theater where Columbia's "Rio Grande Ranger," starring Bob Allen, will be the feature. It is a red-blooded drama set in the beauty of romantic borderlands where the Rio Grande River divides two countries and acts as a refuge for American outlaws who find a haven across the international line.

Bay Newspaper Will Give County Boost

The San Francisco Examiner of Sunday, March 28, will carry in its automobile section a "motorlog" of the Placerville vicinity, it was learned, Friday.

Representatives of the paper and the San Francisco Studebaker automobile agency were in Placerville Friday in connection with the feature and contacted chamber of commerce members and other sources of information and pictures.

Sound "Planned Economy"

Writing on the subject of co-operatives, Nation's Business says: "No one is likely to grudge or contest the progress of self-help societies so long as they advance through their enterprise and good management."

"When their success depends on subsidy by the rest of the community, they are vulnerable to the charge that their benefits are possible only when operation is sustained by the beneficence of government. Well has it been said that 'planned economy' expresses the individual best when he and his fellows plan what they will do for themselves and not what others shall do at their behest."

If co-operatives can succeed only through subsidies and favoritism, it is obvious that they have no economic justification for existence. Fortunately for the cause of co-operation, the better co-operatives both in the United States and elsewhere have wisely refrained from asking favors, and have gone ahead not with the aid of tax freedom or subsidies, but through their own ability, foresight and enterprise.

MARK REED AGAIN SCORES WITH COMEDY "YES, DARLING DAUGHTER"

By JACK GAYER
United Press Drama Editor

NEW YORK UP—There isn't much to argue about where "Yes, My Darling Daughter" is concerned. It makes no pretense to being anything more than an entertaining comedy and it is that emphatically, being deft, literate and amusing in its own right and made doubly attractive by the work of a delightful cast.

Mark Reed, the ex-architect who was responsible for the highly amusing "Petticoat Fever" a couple of seasons ago, is the author of this new hit.

The story concerns the romance of the daughter of a wealthy family who is suddenly confronted with the fact that the poor young man she is in love with is going to Belgium in three days to stay for two years as representative of a razor blade firm. They are too proud to fall back on her family's resources and decide that they should sneak away for a week-end of clandestine bliss. The girl is an independent sort who is determined on a career for herself as a newspaperwoman and she does not want to be tied down by marriage any more than she wants to handicap the young man by roping him into the wedded state.

The girl's mother discovers the plan and confronts the daughter before she goes away. The daughter retaliates by pointing out that her mother, a famous feminist and writer, had quite an affair without benefit of clergy in the old Greenwich Village days before she married a stodgy but steady banker. What can the mother do under the circumstances? She lets the daughter go on her week-end trip and spends the rest of the play trying to straighten the affair out to the satisfaction of the father. Presence in the house of the man with whom the mother had her affair and whom she has not seen for many years adds to the complications.

One of the season's smoothest casts is employed in putting this tale before the public. There is comely Peggy Candian as the daughter, Charlie Egan as the father, Violet Hemmes as the mother, Lucie Watson as the mother's maid, and Boyd Crawford as the girl's big moment. Miss Hemmes appearing after an absence of several seasons, has never been more vivacious or charming. Miss Watson's ability as a comedienne is too well known to need further advertisement, but I must say that I have never seen her in better form or in a role which better becomes her.

PARADE OF SPORTS

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Writer)

NEW YORK (UP)—Unable to secure seats to the Broadway comedy I wanted to see, I decided to visit Placerville's highest tribunal, the New York Boxing Commission, and watch it sit in judgment.

The commission's show still remains the finest farce in New York. This is due, I think to the vibrant witlessness with which the leading actors manage to approach their roles each week. Time does not stale them. Week in and week out Generalissimo John J. Phelan delivers his lines—tens of thousands of them—in the same apologetic manner. Session after session D. Walker Wear tears into trivia with the same pompous roars, and Bud Brown laughs up his sleeve and yawns behind his big hands as though he hadn't heard it all a million times before.

From the moment you walk into the commission chambers and are sternly warned by the generalissimo not to sit on the first row of seats "because it's reserved" until you leave, still wondering why the front seats are reserved when no one ever occupies them, pandemonium reigns.

Pandemonium and the generalissimo that is. They work hand in hand and the effect is startling. Certainly they were startling to frightened Aldo Spolli, the little Italian featherweight who came in to ask that his fight with California's Henry Armstrong be postponed because his hands were hurt. The general threw X-rays and medical opinion at Aldo for half an hour, but finally had to yield under Aldo's steady stream of "I know Mr. General, but I'm hurt."

The generalissimo and Wear would have had Aldo there yet had not Brown skipped a yawn to point out that even if the Brothers Mayo were brought on to testify that there was nothing wrong with Aldo's hands, their evidence would not outweigh the Italian's argument that he "hurt."

"Dammit, they're his hands, and he should know what ails them," Brown pointed out. "If your hands hurt, General, and you knew they hurt, would you let an X-ray tell you they hurt?"

"That would depend," answered the General, always a great one to floundering about.

Spolli was no more out than Wear who has a mad on at the Generalissimo and Brown, reportedly because they wouldn't vote for him as commissioner. Up a seven-year-old charge against Armstrong's manager, Eddie Meade, and voted to refuse him a license. The Generalissimo sided with Wear, and Meade had the dumb-founded Armstrong by the crotch and was leading him from the room when Brown stuffed another yawn and suggested they grant Meade a temporary license.

That was done and Brown saved the commission's last youngster from heading west under the protective wing of an outraged manager.

As Meade went out he was passed by Sol Strauss, on the way in. No comedy writer ever imagined anything as fantastic as Sol Strauss, lawyer for Michael Jacobs and the 20th Century Sporting Club. Giant in stature, broken in speech, bald as an egg, and stone deaf, Strauss holds the world's championship for free-style marathon talking.

Before the commission to represent Jacobs in the Louisiana-Jack Torrance scandal, he would up and let fly with a 17-minute non-stop oration, in which he said exactly nothing exactly 11 times. The Generalissimo talked at the same time, but worked under a heavy disadvantage—he could hear Strauss, but Strauss couldn't hear him. Three times during the Strauss speech the king's English appealingly asked for mercy, and three times Strauss replied with a murderous phrase.

Strauss was finally gagged to make room for Mushky Jackson. Mushky was presented with a contract allegedly bearing his signature and that of the mystery man who refused to take the "dive" for Torrance in Baton Rouge.

"Ain't my signature," Mushky scornfully declared after studying the document. "Look at them crossed T's! Never cross mine."

This sort of thing went on for hours before it finally ended when Chief Little Wolf was led in to explain some grievous wrestling double cross. He was given a sound talking to by the Generalissimo who repeatedly referred to him as "Mister De Wolfe."

After the Change

By Harry F. O'Neill

LOTUS

The old saying is that March comes in like a lion and goes out like a lamb, but for some ten years past this has been reversed; the month coming in like a lamb and going out like a lion. We look for the same, this month going out with wet weather. For the past week the month has been nice and the mercury reaching maximums of 74 to 78.

The buds are beginning to swell and our orchards will soon be in full bloom.

Wylie Harding, special field agent for the Fireman's Fund insurance company, came up from his Sacramento office on Friday last and in company with Charlie Rasmussen, the company's agent here, drove around to look at risks written by the agent. Wylie returned in the afternoon, being well satisfied with the property which he inspected.

Charlie Hines took Ralph Barnett, who has resided here for the past three years, down to his old home at Pasadena on Wednesday last. He was accompanied by his father, Frank Hines, on the trip. After taking Barnett to his home, Charlie and his father drove around Los Angeles and vicinity taking in the sights. They returned to Lotus Friday afternoon, having traveled 1,070 miles on the trip, and Charlie's father did sure enjoy the outing.

John Winkelman, county horticultural commissioner, was in our town from his home Saturday morning inspecting some fruit trees on the Fenske place which were recently purchased from a nursery in Loomis. John found the trees all o. k.

Among those from here who took in the sights and did a little shopping in Placerville the past week were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bacchi, Mrs. Irma Lawyer and daughter, Ethel; Mrs. Daisy Zaro, and Mrs. M. Stoltzfus, of Coloma. All took advantage of the nice weather and stepped out.

Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Stevenson are visiting at the home of William Blodgett and wife. Mrs. Blodgett is Dudley's mother.

Mrs. Tom Smith, Mrs. A. A. McKinnon and Miss Clair Tinney were in our town on Thursday afternoon selling tickets and getting donations for the supper and dance to be given by the Catholic ladies in Placerville on March 17. The ladies met with good success. Mrs. W. A. Reckers, who has called on us for some years past on this occasion, failed to show up, having gone to Hawaii on vacation. We missed her.

Mrs. Lottie Galleher, in company with her brother-in-law, Will Galleher, and niece, Miss Gladys Colwell, drove to Sacramento in her new Dodge sedan on Thursday last on a business and pleasure trip and also to be present for the birthday celebration of her niece, Miss Evelyn Colwell, on March 4. All returned home Friday evening, having much enjoyed the trip.

Sunday was a good day for auto travel and our streets were full of cars going and coming both ways from early morn until late in the evening.

Albert Herzog and his brother, Herbert, and Bert Marchini were pruning the Rasmussen brothers' pear orchard Sunday. Albert has the orchard to care for and he prunes on Sunday so as not to interfere with his other work.

Quite a gathering took place at the home of Supervisor Chairman Dan Bassi and wife on Sunday, the occasion being the 22nd birthday of their only son, Joshua. All sat down to a turkey dinner prepared by Mrs. Bassi consisting of all the fixings down to ice cream. Among those present were Miss Lillian Bassi and Bill Fredericks, who came up from Sacramento; Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Manwaring, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Grother, Joe Vaccini, Clarence Tidd, Miss Ethel Lawyer and Dan Bassi and Mrs. Bassi. After spending the afternoon all returned to their homes wishing Josh many more happy birthdays and all hope to be present for many of his birthdays to come.

Al Robert and wife, of Oakland, accompanied by Henry Miller, wife and son, of Loomis, were callers at the Rasmussen and Lawyer homes on Sunday afternoon. Mr. Miller was a resident of Georgetown twenty years ago and was up there visiting his old friends and looking over his old stamping grounds.

Al McKenney and wife and son, Elwin came up from Sacramento Friday afternoon and on Saturday Earl Coppin and wife came up and joined the McKennys. The three men worked several hours in Al's mine and all returned to their homes Sunday evening.

The whist party given at Coloma Community hall by the Farm Bureau ladies on Friday night was well attended, there being eleven tables. Our Lotus folk came home with most of the prizes, Mrs. Lawyer getting a nice rug; Mrs. and Mrs. Joe Hansen getting three prizes; Will Galleher receiving a cake and George Luneman a luncheon set. Mrs. Hanson won high prize and also the door prize.

Curtis Fry, wife and family, have returned to our town for a time. This means an increase of five scholars for our school.

Mrs. June Marker and Mrs. George Wagner, of Coloma, Andy Wulf, of Garden Valley, Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson, of Watsonville, Carl Michael, of Auburn; Irving Veerkamp, of Weber Creek, the Misses Evelyn and Esther Colwell, of Sacramento, Mr. and Mrs. William Craig, of San Francisco visited our town the past week.

Mrs. Louise Gallagher and son, Melvin, of Coloma, spent a day in Sacramento the past week as did Mr. and Mrs. Byron Bacchi.

KELSEY NOTES

The Cole Wards have leased the Bonham farm and six cabins for a period of two years. All of the cabins are rented at present to families whose men folk are working at mines either in Garden Valley or at the three mines being operated in the Kelsey district.

The Alhambra and Shumway mines, the Wilbur Timm mine, are now connected with the P. G. & E. power by a mile or more of private wire to the mines. Work was interrupted by very deep snow and freezing weather. The Timm home is being completed. Work there was also delayed by inclement weather.

Bob Simmons is continuing the shaft on his property west of Kelsey. Anxious to see how the shoot was looking, he crossed into the vein from the perpendicular and found very rich ore, which has caused a flurry among mining people of the district.

The William Morrisons of Las Vegas, have moved recently into the Murphy cottage, which has been renovated and repaired for rent. Mr. Morrison is working at the Simmons mine.

James Henderson's cottage is completed now, being fenced and otherwise improved with a good deep well. Mr. Henderson is an employee at the Simmons property.

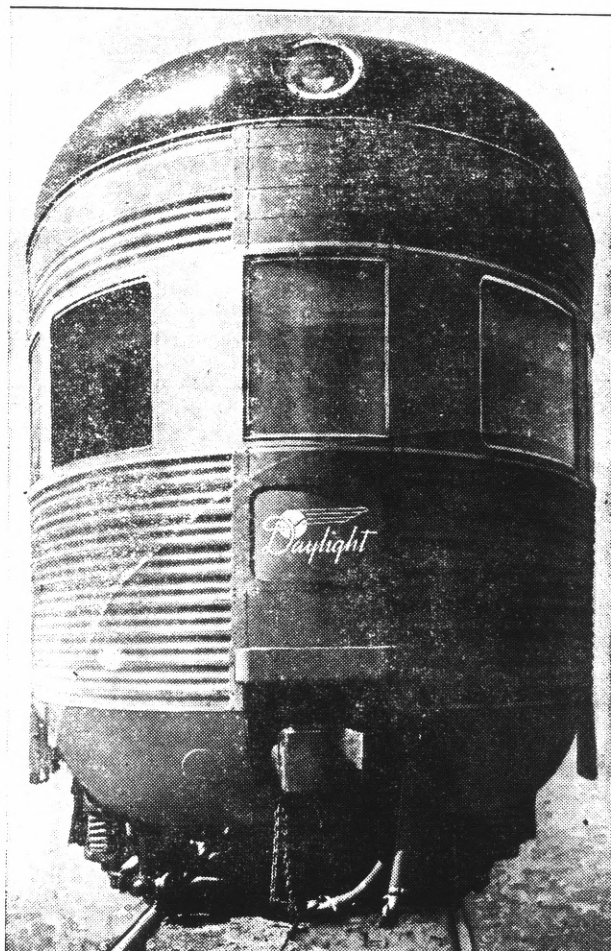

The Ward Brooks of Slate Mountain, made their first trip out last Saturday. They had been at the mine continuously since Christmas, owing to the deep snow.

F. M. Holt, as director, is making the farm center a great success. The 4-H Club is working with Mr. Kinzie as leader of the boys, and the girls' sewing club is under direction of Helen Bennett. Mrs. George Webb is on the entertainment committee.

Many Kelsey people went out Sunday morning to observation point on the Kelsey grade to assist officers in the fatal accident which caused the death of James Miller, an employee of a Garden Valley mine. There is a complete turn to the left at this point, which makes it unsafe for one not familiar with the road on the grade. His wife, Elizabeth Proctor Miller, has the sympathy of her many friends of the North Side.

District Attorney Henry S. Lyon and daughter, Betty, left Friday morning for San Francisco. Mr. Lyon has business in Sacramento on Friday and at San Francisco on Saturday.

It might be a futuristic rocket car ready to take off into space, but it isn't. It's a rear view of the parlor-observation car of the new Southern Pacific streamlined "Daylight" which will be on public exhibition at Sacramento, March 19. The rounded stern and contoured light carry out the streamlining which characterizes the entire 12-car luxury train, including the locomotive. The new "Daylights" will start their regular daily schedule between San Francisco and Los Angeles over the Coast Route, March 21, on a running time of 9 hours and 45 minutes, an hour and a quarter less than the fastest former schedule.

NEW RAIL EQUIPMENT WILL BE DISPLAYED AT CAPITAL MAR. 19

An opportunity to make an inspection of one of the two new streamlined Southern Pacific "Daylights" will be offered residents of this region March 19, when the million-dollar ultra-modern rail liner will be on exhibition at Sacramento from 9:30 a. m., to 6 p. m.

Announcement of the special exhibition was made today by George Yager, local Southern Pacific agent, who predicted that visitors will find numerous features of interest in the new streamliner, which embodies many entirely original developments for comfort, luxury and speed.

The local exhibit will follow extensive test runs of the new trains and precede inauguration of regular daily service between San Francisco and Los Angeles over the Coast Route March 21. A schedule of 9 hours and 45 minutes has been set for the run between the two cities, cutting 1 hour and 15 minutes from the fastest former schedule.

Features of the 12-car train which will be of particular interest to those visiting the exhibition include the brilliant new exterior color scheme of wide black, red and orange strips which sweep the entire length of the cars and locomotive; the new 4500-horsepower locomotive, one of six of the most powerful streamlined steam locomotives ever built, which were recently purchased for the new service; novel rotating-reclining coach seats with sponge rubber cushioning, which permit passengers to face in any desired direction; a horseshoe-shaped coffee shop counter, made possible by increasing interior car width about six inches; a bath and settee section with constantly changing colored lighting; and an observation car with glassed-in rounded stern.

MISSED VITAMINS

BOSTON (U-P)—Prehistoric man suffered from rickets, spinal deformities and other diseases caused by bad posture and lack of vitamins, according to the National Association of Chiropractors. "He was not anywhere near the healthy creature that man is today," the association said.

A sign on the door to Lawyer Elliot's office reports he will return Sunday and we suspect he is spending a few days at San Francisco.

Schlein and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Clementsen won consolation prizes. Miss French received the door prize. Another similar event is planned for April 2.

GRANGE NOTES

THREE FORKS

A most interesting and entertaining meeting was held on the first meeting of the month, March 6.

The question of raising the present road tax of 20 cents to the former rate of 40 cents, drew a large crowd. The proposition has met with the hearty approval of most of the Grange members. All agree that the present road equipment is inadequate to care for the rural roads properly.

The purchase of a heavier road grader and a small rock or gravel crusher is the plan of those interested

GEORGETOWN

Mrs. Burkee returned to her home in Berkeley Saturday. She had been visiting with relatives here the previous two weeks.

Miss Hazel Francis is visiting relatives in San Francisco this week.

Supervisor William Breedlove attended the Board of Supervisors meeting at the Weimar Joint Sanitarium, Thursday. He was accompanied by Mrs. Breedlove.

Georgetown Rebekah lodge held its regular meeting Thursday. After the business of the evening was disposed of, the members enjoyed a social time. Cake and coffee was served by the entertainment committee, R. J. Murdock and Arthur Nothlick.

SPORTS

Big League Scouts! Attention! We have a new Babe Ruth! And Boy! Can he slide! He made the first home run and was on base every time he was up! Who do we mean? Why, Mr. Lung!

INDOOR BASEBALL

What's this about the "Faculty Indoor Baseball Team" sneaking in a practice or two on the Bus Drivers? We even heard that they had a cheering section at them! (Composed of one faculty member and a visitor, Maxine Baer).

The students forgive you, though, because we saw the Bus Drivers practicing last week, and they were really pretty snappy with that old ball.

However, with the able Mr. Lung and a rooting section (they sent and had their wives here) the Faculty beat the Bus Drivers with the score of 21-2!

On Friday, March 12, the Sophomores (who beat the Freshmen last Friday) will play the Juniors. Here's hoping the Juniors stay on top and win the league this year.

BASEBALL

The Cougars' baseball team played their first full nine inning game Saturday with Snowline. Although the game was just a practice game, the team came out on top, winning by a score of 4 to 3.

Chester Carsten, pitcher for the Cougars, knocked a home run, and one of the CCC's also made a home run.

Carsten pitched a fine game, and Robert Boggs caught an exceptionally good game, and this was his first game in High School. The other members also played a grand game.

TENNIS

Good weather brought a number of students to the tennis courts.

The boys are all ready playing for their positions on the tennis ladder and the tournaments will start in a week or two.

The girls are not quite organized yet.

GIRLS LEAGUE

On Friday, April 2nd, the Girls' League will give a Mothers and Daughters' Banquet. The proceeds will go towards the giving of a scholarship at the end of the school year.

If you haven't any Daughters you may acquire one for the evening at the High School! Tickets will be on sale, March 22nd, and you may get them from any high school girl. The price is 50c per plate.

There will be an exceptionally fine speaker and entertainment. All mothers in the community are urged to bring daughters of any age—Gloria Cornellson.

CABINET

In the Girls' League Cabinet Meeting Monday we discussed the plans for the Girls' Hi Jinks — a costume party for girls only. The Commissioner of Entertainment, Drue Killian, is chairman.

The girls who are to go to the Older Girls' Conference at Richardson Springs Saturday and Sunday, March 13 and 14, met Tuesday, Activity Period, to discuss plans.

The Mothers and Daughters Banquet, April 2, is well under way. Kathryn Hackwood, manager and Eleanor Kollman, assistant manager, are getting their committees together. —Dorothy Cosens.

STUDENT BODY

A student Body meeting was held Thursday, March 4. For our entertainment, Miss Warder, who has just returned from Spain, gave a very interesting speech on her travels and adventures there. STATE GAS TAX $619,000.00 IN '35, SAYS SURVEY

Highway users in 1935 paid more than $619,000.00 in state taxes alone on their purchases of 16,000,000.000 gallons of gasoline, according to information received from the bureau of public roads. The tax total is based on an average levy of 3.8 cents per gallon for the country. Consumption, in 1935 gained on the average of 6.4 per cent, compared with 1934.

Every state reported an increase in consumption, the largest being 13.4 in New Mexico, while rises of 10 per cent were shown in Alabama, Arizona, California, Georgia, Idaho, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Carolina, and Utah.

The states in which the tax was highest were Tennessee and Florida, each with a levy of seven cents. The lowest tax, two cents a gallon, is levied in Missouri, Rhode Island, and the District of Columbia.
